To determine the intra-assay variation of this system, DNA from one patient with HAM/TSP were separated into 10 samples, and HTLV-1 proviral DNA load for each sample was determined. The intra-assay variation of this system was calculated according to the following formula: (standard deviation / mean) × 100, which was found to be 7.0%.